

RAHDIN HUSSAIN

Python | Django | JS

ABOUT ME

A motivated software developer with experience in Python and Django. I have a track record of building web applications and have developed several projects using these technologies. My problem-solving and analytical skills, combined with my ability to learn quickly and adapt to new technologies, make me an ideal candidate for any development role. I am dedicated to producing high-quality, efficient code and am always looking for new challenges to improve my skills.
